

CPPE has identified five core values which we believe are central to working successfully as part of the CPPE team. They have been developed by CPPE staff.

The five values are a commitment to:

- improve and achieve
- communication
- encouraging others
- openness and honesty
- working together.

Commitment to improve and achieve

We are motivated and committed to achieving our shared and individual goals. We seek to make improvements to our own working activities and the running of CPPE.

Commitment to communication

We strive to interact well with colleagues and customers. When communicating we make sure that we both give and receive information constructively, and ensure that both our needs and those of our colleagues and customers are met.

Commitment to encouraging others

CPPE team members support each other and foster a positive learning environment. We consistently encourage each other's development.

Commitment to openness and honesty

Staff at CPPE combine an awareness of their own strengths and limitations with a commitment to openness, honesty and high ethical standards.

Commitment to working together

CPPE staff maintain a positive approach to team and partnership working both within CPPE and with external organisations, always taking responsibility for their own behaviour.
